Dear Parents, Students and Members of the British Laureate School Community, September has been a month of resilience, compassion and togetherness for all of us at British Laureate School. While Punjab faced the challenges of devastating floods, our School community stood strong, extending a helping hand to those in need and continuing to nurture learning, joy and values amidst testing times.

Standing Together DURING FLOODS

The recent floods in Punjab deeply impacted many families and our hearts go out to those who suffered losses. Classes transitioned online for a week to ensure continuity of learning. At the same time, the British Laureate School family came together to contribute essentials for the affected people. The compassion and support displayed by our students, parents and staff was truly commendable.

Despite the circumstances, our students felicitated the Teachers. The celebrations were held online, filled with warm-hearted messages, creative presentations and gratitude expressed by learners for their teachers. The spirit of respect and appreciation was evident, even through the screen.
